

ACTR National Post-Secondary Russian Essay Contest
STUDENT DECLARATION AND WAIVER

I have not received any help in writing this essay. I have not consulted any textbooks, dictionaries, or notes in writing this essay. This essay represents my independent work. I have also read the waiver below and have indicated my response to it.

Signed _____ Date _____

Name (please print) _____

Institution _____

Code _____

Category _____ Level _____

The American Council of Teachers of Russian (ACTR) permits essays submitted to the ACTR National Post-Secondary Russian Essay Contest to be used for academic research connected with improving the study and teaching of Russian, with consent of the author. The research may be conducted by ACTR staff and/or other qualified research personnel. I understand that allowing my essay to be used for any research is completely voluntary, and that if I choose not to give my agreement below, that will in no way affect the evaluation of my essay in the ACTR National Post-Secondary Russian Essay Contest. My choice as to whether I have agreed to allow my essay to be included in any research will not be shared with anyone who grades the essay. I understand that my name will not be disclosed, and that any information contained in the essay that may be used to identify me or my school will be excluded from publication in any form. I further understand that if I have questions about any research in which my essay may have been included or about my rights with regard to any research in which it may be included, I can contact Dr. Nadra Garas, IRB Chair, Department of Research, ACTR/Washington, 1828 L Street. NW, Suite 1200, Washington, DC 20036 / garas@americancouncils.org.

Please date, and sign on one of the two lines below. Date _____

I agree to allow my essay to be used for research. _____

I decline to allow my essay to be used for research. _____